PRODUCERS' NOTE

In the years that we have produced Jersey Voices, "new" is a word that comes up a lot. New plays, new playwrights, new directors, new actors. Seven of our directors, four of our playwrights, and twelve of our actors are new to their roles in Jersey Voices, but you may recognize their names and faces. Some directors have been on our stage for years and are trying their hand at directing for the first time, some of our actors have previously had their plays performed at JV, some of our playwrights have acted and directed. "New" doesn't only mean brand-new faces, but familiar faces getting a chance to try their hand at a new creative outlet. Some are involved at Chatham for the first time ever, bringing new ideas, energy, and fresh perspectives. This blend of new and familiar is something that we are most proud of at Jersey Voices. Our goals have always been to foster new work, build community, and encourage creative collaboration. We feel so lucky to have playwrights who are excited to come to rehearsals and are open to working with a director and actors to make edits to their scripts, to have actors who have been onstage for years but want to take the risk of writing a play or directing for the first time. And, most of all, we feel lucky to have you, our audience, whether this is your 1st Jersey Voices or 31st.

Thank you for taking a risk on shows you have never heard of and supporting the amazing community of artists we have here in New Jersey.

REACHING NEW AUDIENCES

For over 26 years, our Outreach program has brought people without access to live theater at The Chatham Playhouse to attend performances free of charge, with funding from grants and individual donors who share our vision for a world with unfettered access to the arts. Outreach provides busing and complimentary admission to our partners in youth and family programs, drug and alcohol dependence programs, physical injury rehabilitation, special education, schools, senior citizen homes, and AIDS foundations. For many, this is their first live theatrical experience. Please help support our efforts by recommending groups that might be interested in partnering with us by emailing Outreach@ChathamPlayers.org.

Chatham Community Players welcomes all newcomers!

No special talents or experience are required, so join the fun, make great new friends, learn new skills, and become part of our community.

The more than 103-year-old Chatham Community Players is a not-for-profit, volunteer-based organization.
